- When will Church buildings open for Sunday worship? - Following the government's 'roadmap out of lockdown' announcement this week, I plan to meet with wardens and PCCs (if possible), over the next few weeks, to work out when and how we can start to open for Sunday 'in-person' worship. I'll of course keep everyone informed of the decisions that are made. Thanks, Adrian

- RiverCamp 2021, which was due to happen over the August bank holiday has sadly been cancelled because of the pandemic, and is now planned for 2022. Details of this including the reasons why are given here:

<https://www.river-camp.co.uk>

- New Wine have decided to run two one-week events during the summer with reduced numbers. They will go ahead if enough people book into these by the end of March. They will take place at the Peterborough show ground so are really convenient in terms of travel. More details of what is being offered can be found here:

<https://breaksout.new-wine.org/united-21/>

Louise and I are considering one of these but haven't quite decided yet! Let us know if you are thinking of signing up.

- Online Lent Course - 'A study in the book of Hebrews' continues next week. The third teaching video will be published at 9am next Monday morning. The Zoom details for discussing further on Wednesday evenings from 7:30pm are:

- IT Equipment for Schools - My thanks for the positive response to the Rotary in Wellingborough appeal for unused laptops etc for use by children learning from home. Of the items offered from all sources, 65 were updated and distributed via 10 schools in the borough to those needing support. The scheme is now paused since it is half-term and whilst we await the announcement of the way ahead for reopening schools. Once again, many thanks for your help. Dick Parsley.
